A couple of weekends ago, several families from the Eddy County 4-H Shooting Sports and Outdoor Skills Club met near Lake Metigoshe to learn and practice some outdoor winter skills.

Most of us arrived on February 17. Leader Mike Brazil worked hard to plan affordable things for our member families to learn and do. We stayed in little wooden cabins that were nice and cozy. They were even more cozy and nice than I had pictured in my head. They had kitchens, bathrooms, couches and bunk beds. We brought our own food, bedding and most of our own bathroom and kitchen supplies. In my cabin, there was the perfect amount of room and beds for my family of five.

We slept the first night at the cabin, and in the morning, we met to learn about and go cross-country skiing.

Our club rented the equipment at a warming house. We had a little chat about what we would be doing, and we had an instructor that went along with us to help guide and teach us. Mike walked alongside members as they skied to teach and offer help. Amy and Chad Wobbema also walked along to help and took lots of pictures. (Chad took the BEST picture of my dad flying through the air on a tricky, curvy slope that only a few of us stayed upright on!) I was also really excited to see that Macey Wobbema came with for the weekend! We had about 20 people in total.

Everyone split into small groups together based on their pace. On the trail back, we came together, and there was a seven-person pile up when one of the kids fell! It was pretty funny! I very much enjoyed cross-country skiing! Also, I learned that my great-grandma Marlyss's great uncle would cross-country ski from Crosby to Sheyenne every winter, and that makes it even more special to me!

After cross-country skiing, everyone went back to their cabins to eat and get some rest. Later that day, we met back at the warming house to rent snowshoes and went on a little adventure. It was different than what I thought it would be, and my favorite part was when we climbed straight up a big hill! Mike suggested that going sideways back and forth would really be the best way to get up the hill, but we sure had fun the way we did it! We snowshoed down a path, went across part of the frozen lake, up the hill, and then through another path back to the warming house. When we were done snowshoeing, we returned our gear and then went right across the driveway to the sledding hill! Several of our families brought sleds and we all took turns. Most kids attempted to surf down the hill on a sled, but it was harder than we thought (AND a ton of fun)! Mike brought a bigger sled, and a whole bunch of us piled in at once and made it quite far out onto the frozen lake.

In the evening, we met at the Wobbemas' cabin where we grilled food, lit a bonfire and played games. One unique food that we had was moose steak from the Brazils. Most of us had never tried moose. My little sister, Lyla, was also pretty excited because Mike helped her to put her own hotdogs on the grill! We played and ate and then went sledding in the dark.

The next day, some of us went ice fishing and the rest of us went downhill skiing, which was my favorite part. This was a little more expensive, so each family covered their own costs. My sisters and I had never gone skiing before, and it was super cool to see little 5-year-old Lyla catch on so quickly and buzz down on her little skis! It was also really neat to ride the big ski lift with Jackson, Chaztin and Winnie up to the top of the big hills!

Lora and Tillie had to head back to New Rockford earlier than the rest of us for basketball practice on Sunday. A few others left later that day, and the rest of us stayed at our cabins and left Monday morning.

This was a very fun and interesting experience, and I would definitely go to Lake Metigoshe again! I am hoping we can go there this summer! I am so happy and thankful that we were able to try new things and have so much fun!

Outdoor notes:

- *Check on ice houses occasionally to make certain they haven't iced in after warming weather.
- *Be mindful of parking when accessing area lakes; not blocking roadways or snow removal operations.
- *Reminder that it's illegal to chase, harass, or pursue any wildlife species with motorized vehicle.
- *Ice is never completely safe. Avoid areas with vegetation, moving water, pressure ridges and springs. Check conditions as you go along on the ice and don't move around at night.
- *March 15: Permanent houses must be off area lakes but can be used if removed daily.
- *March 18: Friends of the NRA banquet, Grand Forks Alerus Center, 5 p.m.
- *March 24: Barnes Co. Ducks Unlimited banquet, Valley City Eagles Club, 5:30 p.m.
- *March 25: Kidder Co. Pheasants Forever banquet, Steel, Pifer's Auction Center, 5 p.m.

Fishing:

- *Devils Lake elevation, March 7: 1,449.35 feet above mean sea level (MSL).
- *Stump Lake elevation: 1,449.34 MSL.
- *Lake Sakakawea elevation: 1,825.19 MSL; 19,700 cubic feet per second average (CFS) Garrison Dam daily releases.
- *N.D. Game & Fish Dept. Dist. game wardens: No reports from area lakes, Devils Lake, or the Missouri River System.
- *Devils Lake, Ed's Bait Shop, Devils Lake: No new reports but look for continued perch activity in East Bay. Moving around on the ice is still difficult without tracked vehicles.
- *Devils Lake, Lakeview Lodge, Minnewaukan: Continued nice perch activity with fair walleye success.
- *Devils Lake, West Bay Resort, Minnewaukan: Walleye activity slowed and is more inconsistent.
- *Devils Lake, Woodland Resort, Devils Lake: Continued good perch success around East Bay. Work early morning hours or late afternoon for walleye. Access remains challenging on many areas of the lake, however.
- *Foster County area lakes, Dry Dock, Carrington: Most activity remains on Devils Lake for perch or Jamestown Reservoir for crappie.
- *Jamestown Reservoir, Pioneer Bait & Tackle, Jamestown: No reports from area lakes.
- *Jamestown Reservoir, Sooper Stop, Jamestown: No new reports.
- *Lake Ashtabula, The Hungry Pelican at the Crossing, Luverne: Activity continues with best success on minnows when available.
- *Lake Ashtabula, Bayshore, Valley City: Drifting snow occurring across the lake with recent winds so anglers moved most houses off the lake. Activity slowed due to weather and access conditions.
- *Lake Sakakawea, Cenex Bait & Tackle, Garrison: Some nice-sized walleye west of Douglas Bay but no access points other than at Douglas Bay so travel on the ice for about 3 miles is necessary. Spotty walleye success elsewhere on the east end. Work any of the upper ends of back bays for the start of a pike bite. Try deep in about 35 feet on Lake Audubon for walleye but be prepared to keep fish caught that deep.
- *Lakes Audubon & Sakakawea, Hwy. 83 Lawn & Leisure, Garrison: A more consistent pike bite is showing up on the east end of Lake Sakakawea. Focus on larger flats adjacent to deeper water in back bays with smelt or herring. Walleye remain spotty on Lake Sakakawea and Lake Audubon.
- *Lake Sakakawea/Lake Audubon/Missouri River, Scott's Bait and Tackle, Pick City: Missouri River tailrace walleye success remains slow. Weather limiting activity on Lake Sakakawea.

When Irish eyes are smiling

Are you seeing green? March 1st marked the meteorological beginning of spring. When I was a kid, spring clearly started on March 21st (the vernal equinox - when the sun and the equator celebrate a secret handshake), a much more likely date for closing the door on winter in North Dakota. Apparently, meteorologists rule when it comes to marking our seasons. Don't put away the snow shovel just yet.

The most familiar holiday for the month is St. Patrick's Day, celebrated on March 17th, which marks the death of St. Patrick, the patron saint of Ireland. St. Patrick was actually born in Britain, but was kidnapped at age 16 and forced to serve as a shepherd slave in Ireland. During this time, he turned to his religion for solace, becoming a devout Christian. After being imprisoned for six years, Patrick escaped. He had dreams which directed him to become a Catholic priest and to convert the Irish. St. Patrick incorporated many traditional Celtic symbols and rituals into his lessons of Christianity, rather than eradicate native Irish beliefs. The Celtic cross is made by combining the sun with a Christian cross. The shamrock was a sacred plant in ancient Ireland because it symbolized the rebirth of spring; Patrick used the shamrock to represent the Holy Trinity in his teachings. The color green is now synonymous with St. Patrick's Day and Irish pride, but until the 19th century, the color associated with St. Patrick was actually blue.

Many Irish emigrated following the historic Irish Famine from 1845 to 1849, some finding new homes in Boston, Chicago and New York. The US Census Bureau has reported that 34 million - around 10 per cent - US citizens claim Irish descent. The St. Patrick's Day parade in New York is the longest-running civilian parade in the world with up to 300,000 marchers and three million spectators lining the streets. The parade in 2002 featured the largest crowds ever, with a silent two-minute pause in the midst of the parade to pay tribute to the victims of 9-11. In 1962, the city of Chicago began the tradition of dyeing the Chicago River green to mark the holiday, a task in the hands of the Journeymen Plumbers Local Union 130. The exact concoction remains a closely guarded secret, but it consists of about 40 pounds of vegetable-based powdered dye that is dumped into the river.

Other Irish customs brought to America include variations of Irish food. In the Irish homeland, boiled pork products were common. Pork was more expensive than beef in America, so the cabbage, potatoes and pork dish was replaced with corned beef, cabbage and potatoes. (Years ago, beef was packed in salt the size of corn kernels, hence "corned beef"). This is a staple Irish-American menu item in Irish Pubs across the United States. This year St. Patrick's Day lands on a Friday, so anyone abstaining from eating meat during Lent may find it a challenge to fully celebrate in Irish fashion. Finally, St. Patrick's Day is not complete without raising a pint of stout to the tune of an Irish ballad - "Danny Boy," "My wild Irish Rose," or "When Irish Eyes are Smiling." For some, a milder alternative for celebrating the day is to spend a quiet evening on the Emerald Isle back in 1952 with John Wayne and Maureen O'Hara in "The Quiet Man" - with a side of fish and chips.

May your troubles be less and your Blessings be more, and nothing but Happiness come through your door.
